

Flu Season

Go

A Neo blows their nose in a tissue then tosses it into a waste basket filled with tissues center stage. They crosses US to the door. Looks back. Turns out the light. Exits.

A special comes up on the waste basket center stage.

Three neos enter in the darkness surrounding the basket. They pull out a pile of tissues. They manipulate the pile that now appears to be strung together to form a humanoid shape. They are puppeteering the snot monster bunraku style. Once the snot monster is standing, it scans the audience slowly.

An arm reaches up to cue the booth.

Lights shift. Saturday Night Fever Disco music fills the space. The snot monster dances completely uninhibited.

The original Neo re-enters from the door. Lights shift back to normal and the music cuts out. The puppeteers drop the snot monster.

They all stare at each other.

Neo:

That's gross.
